

BLUE WALL THEATRE COMPANY PRESENTS

At The End Of The Day

The Musical

A new musical based in South-West Donegal

Inspired by the patchwork quilt 'Love Across The Waves' by Arranmore and Tir Boghaine Women's Groups, At The End Of The Day provides a look at life in Donegal during the early 1800s. The plot mainly follows the relationship of Matthew Lyons and Nuala Green, from the time they first meet, to the time they become engaged to be married, and also the events leading up to their meeting, including the Bruckless drownings and the economic conditions of the time.

Original music, lyrics and book are by Leslie Long, and direction is by Tracey Faulkner, with choreography by Amy Jordan.

More information is available at <https://attheendofthedaythemusical.com>

IMAGE DOWNLOAD (choose production-03-image-for-show4.jpg from the downloads page):

<http://attheendofthedaythemusical.com/downloads/>